

ABSTRACT

Compositions having an effective amount of a Sea Buckthorn extract and an inert carrier and methods of use therefor are disclosed and described. Such methods of use include may include controlling serum lipid concentrations in a subject, and 5 controlling the body weight of a subject, among others.